

Doors and gates not larger than twenty-eight (28) square feet), windows and frames, porch and portal trim, and roof trim may be finished in solid southwestern colors as defined in a color standard prepared by the ACC. Garage doors are considered part of the exterior and are not trim. They should be painted to match the house stucco or may be painted or stained a color within the above range of stucco colors. White is acceptable for garage doors on Territorial style homes. Natural wood with a clear sealer is acceptable for garage doors or trim. All exterior and trim colors that are not included in the approved list must be approved by the ACC before use.
